Invitation

University Didactics Program (ud) for doctoral candidates, postdocs, professors, mid-level faculty, and adjunct instructors

We cordially invite you to participate in the diverse range of events offered by the SU Higher Education Didactics Program/Certificate (HD/UD) of the University Didactics Unit (udu) at ZeLL. Key areas of focus include, for example, teaching, learning, presentation, study, and exam skills; counseling, coaching, and communication skills; critical thinking; creativity; and innovation in and for higher education/university teaching, academic studies, and continuing education. Some sessions are in-person, others are digital, with offerings available in German, English, and translanguaging formats. After actively and fully participating in a single workshop of 5 work units (wu) or more, you will receive a detailed proof of participation. You are also welcome to book our consulting services.

How do we involve international university teachers and scientists?

Some workshops are offered in English, for example:

- Internationalization in Teaching and Learning (in-person) (10 work units (wu))
- Teaching and Learning – Basics in English (asynchronous) (5 work units)
- Critical Thinking in Teaching and Learning (asynchronous) (5 wu)
- Developing Memorizing and Reading techniques (asynchronous) (5 wu)
- Music in Teaching – Music in Learning (asynchronous) (5 wu)
- ...

If you're at Saarland University for only a few weeks, months, or 1–2 semesters, you can participate in the asynchronous courses at any time. Please contact us. All asynchronous workshops can be booked at any time during the semester's lecture periods by international guest lecturers, university teachers, instructors, speakers and scientists at SU (not during the break between semesters).

Please contact: hochschuldidaktik@uni-saarland.de

... and our translanguaging approach in German-language workshops for you:

International university teachers and scientists are also welcome to participate in many other workshops offered in German:

If You are an international university teacher or scientist: You can speak and write English or German in the most University Didactics workshops offered in German. The workshops will be held in German. We follow a translanguaging concept so that international University teachers slowly find their way into the German language too.
