

Learning and Teaching Basic Skills

(also part of the SU-Teaching Assistant and Learning Programme)

Target group: international students

Content:

In this workshop we would like to give international students the opportunity to reflect basic skills in learning and teaching tasks.

The range of scientific courses or continued education courses is increasingly moving in an international environment. Students from all over the world can learn, teach and interact with one another in face-to-face, hybrid and e-learning courses.

Lecturer/Speaker:

Birgit Roßmanith has headed the University Didactics Unit of the SU at ZeLL respectively the University Didactics of the Saarland University since 2008. She is an educational and social scientist and works as an academic developer, teacher, consultant, coach, researcher and author.

Programme and Certificate Responsible:

Dr. Birgit Roßmanith (Leitung AS HD), hochschuldidaktik@uni-saarland.de
