3rd Teachers' Day: Spoken Grammar

Workshop Anne O'Keeffe

Teaching spoken grammar

More and more we are told that spoken grammar is different to written grammar. We hear of the importance of teaching it to our students if they are to become successful spoken language users. This poses new challenges for us as teachers. We have models for teaching written grammar but how do we go about presenting the spoken grammar? This workshop will explore some options for finding materials and structuring lessons on spoken grammar.
