

Dear students,

as part of the seminar “Paris Was a Woman: Bohemian Women Writers of the Left Bank,” we plan to organize a one-day excursion to Paris. This excursion will take place on Saturday, January 17, 2015. We have secured some financial support so that the cost of this trip will be low for you.

A detailed schedule of the seminar will be made available in the first session, which takes place on Wednesday, October 29, 2014. Class materials and additional readings will be made available on the Moodle platform. Bock&Seip, the university’s bookstore, should have the primary texts. Please make sure to start reading soon!

If you are interested in taking the class and in coming along to Paris, please contact Prof. Fellner at amerikanistik@mx.uni-saarland.de

There are still some slots available in my class. But we only have room for 20 students on the field trip, and we need to know soon how many people will be able to join the excursion. So, please let me know soon!

Looking forward to seeing you,
Astrid Fellner
