

Getting around in Saarbrücken

The website of the Saarbrücken bus system is: www.saarfahrplan.de

Tickets can be bought directly on the bus (2,60€).

1) If you arrive at Saarbrücken main train station (Saarbrücken Hbf)

The bus stop of the train station is called “Saarbrücken Hauptbahnhof”. From here you can take a bus or the tram (called “Saarbahn”) to almost everywhere in the city.

To get to the university, you will have to go to the bus stop “Universität Campus”. You can therefore simply type the two bus stops onto the website and it will give you all available connections including the bus numbers and, if necessary, the changes that you have to make.

The direct bus lines from the train station to university are the busses 102, 112 and 124, which run every 10 minutes during the week.

2) If you arrive at the bus station in Dudweilerstraße 111

The bus station is located very close to the city center and is well connected by buses. The closest bus stop for the bus station is called “Brauerstraße” and is only a 5 minute walk away at the main street “Dudweilerstraße”. From there you can take the bus 101, 112, 124 and 150 to get to the university (“Universität Campus”).

3) If you arrive at the long distance bus station “Goldene Bremm”

Most international busses will stop at the bus station “Goldene Bremm”, which is located outside of Saarbrücken. You can take a bus from the bus stop “Goldene Bremm” or “Am Hauptfriedhof” to university. The direct bus line is the 109, which runs about once per hour. Alternatively, you can take a bus to the train station (Bus 30, 123 and 126) and then proceed from there.

4) If you have to first get to your hotel or your private accommodation

You can use the same website to find out how to get to your hotel or your accommodation in Saarbrücken. You only have to find out the name of the bus stop (hotels usually have it on the website) and then you can type it into the website to find the connection.
