

Mag.iur. Philipp Reinhold

Philipp Reinhold is a Research Assistant and Doctoral Candidate at Saarland University. His research interests lie in the field of European and international economic law, including in particular European competition law, European trade law and WTO law.

Philipp is currently conducting research as a Doctoral Candidate under the supervision of Prof. Dr. Marc Bungenberg, LL.M. In his doctoral thesis, he deals with the regulation of export charges on raw materials in world trade law as a multi-level system.

Philipp studied law at the University of Bonn and the Université de Lausanne. He is a member of the IILCC Study Group on the reform of investor-State dispute settlement and was, as a staff member of the Monopolies Commission, involved in the drafting of Chapter IV ('China's State Capitalism: Challenge for the European Market Economy') of the XXIII Biennial Report (2020). In October 2020, Philipp stayed as a Visiting Research Fellow at the World Trade Institute in Bern.
