Senior IT Consultant – Office Automation Expert
at the European Commission, in Luxembourg

Job Description
Would you like to play a part in a motivated team working in the inspiring multicultural environment of the European Commission in Luxembourg? Do you want to support the Commission’s office-related product selection strategy by authoring technical papers, conducting market research and analysing new technologies. Are you interested in providing technical and development support for the office automation environment?

Did you answer: Yes! Yes! Yes!

Then we invite you to join us: at DIaLOGIKa and its Luxembourg-based partner companies we work together with large EU institutions to deliver state-of-the-art solutions and expert consultancy. Leverage your knowledge and skills for career success. Take up the challenge and apply with us as an Office Automation Expert.

Skills and Experience
- Master’s degree in computer science or another engineering field
- Minimum of 6 years’ relevant professional experience
- Mastery and understanding of office automation applications (MS-Office, Adobe Acrobat/Reader, etc.)
- Knowledge of standards and formats related to office automation products
- Knowledge of software production and management and mastery of software documentation and reporting
- OSS products and solutions — Open/Libre Office, Wiki solutions, blogging solutions, collaborative and content management solutions, etc.
- Knowledge of security concepts and methodologies
- Ability to participate in multilingual meetings (English; French would be an asset), ease of communication and ability to convey technical subject matter

About the Company
With its combined 100-strong team, DIaLOGIKa and its Luxembourg-based partner companies realise demanding software solutions in forward-looking IT domains such as Document Life Cycle, Telecommunications, Digital Security and Technical Monitoring, to name only a few.
